3 Injured, Camaro Wrecked In Single Car Accident

Howard Levi Bunker, Jr., 23, and two teenage girls, all from Grayling, were taken to Mercy Hospital on Wednesday, July 13, following a single car accident that totally destroyed Bunker's Camaro.

Sheriff deputies were notified by Mercy Hospital of the personal injury accident that occurred at approximately 1:40 a.m. on Wilcox Bridge Road at Jones Lake Road in Grayling Township.

Investigation showed that the driver, Bunker, had been traveling very fast on Jones Lake Road and lost control at the Wilcox Bridge Road intersection. The vehicle, a 1976 Camaro, left the road and knocked down several small trees before coming to rest against a large tree.

Bunker and his 15 year old passenger were admitted to Mercy Hospital. The 16 year old passenger, the only person in the car wearing a seat belt, was treated at Mercy Hospital

The driver was cited for reckless driving, and no safety belt. Alcohol was a contributing factor in the accident, police said.

A $20,000 Weyerhaeuser Foundation grant was presented to the Crawford AuSable Board of Education by Rodger Anger, Grayling Weyerhaeuser Structurwood Plant Manager. The money will be used for high school computer laboratory hardware. The Weyerhaeuser grant plus $18,000 in Federal Chapter II funds has enabled the district to implement the Grayling High School long range computer hardware purchase plan. Sixteen first grade students will be transferred to round out two full sections of first grade in Frederic. Approximately 26 third grade students, one classroom, will also be transferred from Grayling to Frederic. Reynolds said that parents of first and third graders will receive a letter this month announcing the need to transfer students, and asking for volunteers. If parents do not volunteer the necessary student quotas, then a lottery drawing system will be used to select the transfer students.

During the 1987-88 school year one kindergarten classroom was utilized for one class. With the kindergarten classes meeting on alternate days, this meant that the classroom was empty for half the year. The same situation existed at the Frederic Elementary School. At the June board meeting action was taken to transfer one kindergarten class from Grayling to Frederic. This action was approved to free one classroom space; however, a lower than projected kindergarten enrollment appears to have made this transfer unnecessary, and still allow kindergarten class size to remain at 24 students or less. Reynolds said that if these student trans-

Murder Suspect Kills Himself In North Dakota

Laverne William Hoy, 35, suspected of killing Jean Audrey Love, committed suicide in a stolen truck on a North Dakota roadside as a state police trooper approach-

The North Dakota State Police trooper had stopped to assist the driver of a truck parked along the shoulder of a road with the hood raised. As he approached the vehicle, the officer heard a gunshot, and saw the occupant of the truck fall over.

Further investigation determined that the fatal gunshot wound was self-inflicted, and the victim to be Laverne William Hoy.

On Monday, July 18, Det/Lt. James Parker, of the Crawford County Sheriff's Department, two State Police officers from the Michigan State Crime Lab, and an officer from the Alcona Sheriff's Department flew to North Dakota to conduct a search of the truck and surrounding area for additional evidence.

Hoy was wanted by both the Crawford and Alcona Sheriff's Departments in connection with murders that occurred in their counties on July 6 and July 13. The Crawford County Sheriff Department issued an open murder warrant for Hoy on July 8, for the fatal beating of Jean Audrey Love, of Grayling.

The Alcona County Sheriff Department wanted Hoy for questioning in the homicide of Gilbert John Nokland, 74, found fatally shot, in his hunting cabin located in Caledonia Township, near Hubbard Lake.

Following the discovery of Nokland's body, Alcona Sheriff deputies conducted a thorough search of the area including several nearby hunting cabins. Deputies found one cabin that had been broken into, and behind the cabin, in a wooded area, officers found the light blue Mercury Hoy was suspected to be driving following the Love homicide.

The Alcona Sheriff's Department issued a description of the pickup Nokland had driven to his cabin. The truck was a 1978 Dodge, 3/4 ton, four-wheeled pickup, dark green in color, with a white stripe on the side. The vehicle was equipped with a snow plow frame on the front, and a gray metal tool box on the back. The Michigan license was GK7819. This is the same truck the North Dakota State trooper approached four days later.

Hanson Hills Lease Extended to 1996

By Irene Pettyjohn

A lease renewal extending the use of the Hanson Hills Recreation Area to the Grayling Recreation Authority until March of 1996 was signed by the State Military Board and representatives of the GRA.

This agreement culminated efforts by members of the GRA and the State Military Board that began in 1982.

Four of the five members of the State Military Board, Brig. General Robert T. Williams, Brig. General Stanley Vihtelic, Col. Harold Tucker, and Col. Leo C. Whitaker, were present for the signing ceremony held on Saturday, July 16, at the Chief Shoppenagon Motor Hotel. Brig. General Floyd Radike was unable to attend.

GRA board members present for the ceremony were: Pauline Petrosky, chairperson; Theresa Furst, secretary; Beth Wieland, treasurer; Scott Remsing, activities coordinator (management staff); and John Hunter, ex-officio member and legal coun-

Pauline Petrosky welcomed the military and local dignitaries and stated that the Hanson Hills Recreation Area exists today because of the generosity of the State Military Board. "Hanson Hills resides on State Military Land," Petrosky said, "and we are granted occupancy through a lease with the State Military Board. This new lease," she continued, "is a good agreement between our community and our military neighbors." Petrosky said the new lease gives the people of Crawford County an indefinite lease renewable every five years.

During the ceremony Maj. General Vernon J. Andrews said that the lease was "being renewed well ahead of schedule. This is being done," he stated, "to send a clear message to the community that Hanson Hills has the long-term life expectancy needed to justify the long-term commitment required by a millage."

Andrews explained the military's initial hesitation in agreeing to a long-term commitment. He said that the military operates with an annual budget. Training requirements are specified for only two years in advance, and their missions can change within a moments notice. "Absence of long-term guidance from Washington has existed for the Camp's entire 75 year history. Still," he continued, "it makes it very difficult for us to predict exactly how we will be using Camp Grayling in the distant future."

Andrews credited the excellent presentations and arguments of Pauline Petrosky and her associates, and the unique perspectives of the five retired officers of the Michigan National Guard who comprise the State Military Board for overcoming any hesitations he might have had in extending the military's obligations to GRA too far into the future.

Petrosky credited the lease renewal to a great deal of hard work on the part of the GRA and the military board. She also gave credit to a responsible management staff, an improved working relationship with the Michigan National Guard, and tremendous support from the county, townships, schools, service organizations, merchants, and industry.

Just prior to the official signing of the lease renewal document Petrosky stated, "Today, we are entering a compatible partnership with the State Military Board in order to insure our future. The military and the Michigan National Guard have shown confidence in the GRA and willingness to support the needs of the community. This signifies a long-term commitment to the future of Hanson Hills, Crawford County, Grayling, and the surrounding areas. The military is our landlord...we are neighbors

Jet Ski Use Concerns Lake Property Owners

World War II Hero To Lead Milltown Parade

In keeping with the Michigan National Guard's 75th Diamond Jubilee, the Milltown Festival Parade Committee has chosen Retired Chief Warrant Officer Oscar G. Johnson as their Grand Marshall. Officer Johnson was the only Michigan National Guard to receive the Congressional Medal of Honor during World War II.

The following was taken from an article written about his heroic deeds. "In Sept. 16-18, 1944 (Then Private First Class) Johnson practically singlehanded protected the left flank of Company B's position in the offensive to break Germany's gothic line. In spite of mortar fire and machine gun bullets, he stood erect and repulsed the attack on Company B with grenades and small-arms fire. Five companies of a German paratroop regiment had been repeatedly committed to the attack on Company B without success. Twenty dead Germans were found in front of his position. By his heroic stand and utter disregard for personal safety, Johnson was in a large measure responsible for defeating the enemy's attempts to turn the exposed left flank."

GLARE AND HAZY VISION

QUESTION: What can be done to reduce annoying glare during the daytime and at night?

ANSWER: There are several solutions to reducing glare depending on the actual situation. For night activities, such as reducing glare from on-coming traffic, an Anti-Reflection Coating would benefit the wearer. For individuals who may be sensitive to glare and direct outdoor lighting, Corning Glare Control Lenses would benefit the wearer. These lenses photochromically adjust to changing light levels - They lighten indoors and darken outdoors - a little on hazy days, a lot in direct sunlight. Many people with developing or removed cataracts can benefit from the Corning Glare Control Lenses also.

The Lease Document

Commenting on the new lease Petrosky stated that she feels very comfortable with the terms of the new document. "All negotiators involved have finally come to a positive conclusion, and we are just making sure that it's going to work," she said.

Petrosky said that the document has several very positive additions that the previous lease did not contain. In the lease renewal, the State Military Board recognizes the GRA as a viable entity. This means that the board can make decisions as a board, without having to return to each represented group for their permission. The new lease and the memorandum of understanding from now to the end of the old lease (March 1991) gives the GRA authority to make improvements at Hanson Hills that are consistent with the activities of the recreation area without having to present projects to the military board and the State's Attorney Generals' office for approval.

Petrosky said that she hoped that the lease renewal would assure voters that the tax dollars they are investigating at Hanson Hills is an investment in the county's future. She is confident that Hanson Hills will be meeting the recreational needs of Crawford County for many years to come.

fers did not occur 27 classrooms would be needed at the Grayling Elementary School. The school has only 25 classrooms.

The board designated the second Monday, at 7:30 p.m., as their scheduled monthly meeting date and time. These meetings will be held in the Grayling Middle School conference room. Scheduled monthly meetings will no longer be conducted in the various school buildings throughout the year and in the Lovells Township Hall twice a year. The decision to meet at the different locations was intended to make it more convenient for people living in those areas to attend school board meetings; however, in the six years since the practice was adopted by the board, no one, with the exception of individuals scheduled to participate in the meetings, has attended the alternate location meetings. In the future, if residents express an interest in re-establishing the alternate meeting practice, the board will re-evaluate

Grade Point Averages

The 1988-89 high school and middle school handbooks were presented for board discussion. These handbooks contain a detailed explanation of building policies. The two most significant changes proposed involve change in the calculation method for determining grade point averages, and a $.50 price increase for admission to athletic

The first proposal to change the calculation method for scoring grade point averages would begin with the 1988-89 freshman class. The current method of calculating grade point averages would be changed to reflect pluses and minuses.

Grade point averages are presently calculated on a four point scale: 1 point for any kind of "D", 2 points for any "C", 3 points for any "B", and 4 points for any "A". The new method would give 4 points for an "A", 3.7 points for an "A-", 3.3 points for a "B+", 3 points for a "B" and so on. Reynolds explained that these revisions would more accurately determine class standings and would probably eliminate multiple Valedictorian and Salutatorian awards.

The second proposed change would increase the admission price for students and adults attending athletic contests from $2.00 to $2.50. Admission prices have not been raised since 1978.

The board directed that both handbooks be returned for action at the August meeting.

District Goals

District priority goals for the 1988-89 school year were adopted by the board. Every July, the Board of Education adopts goals for the coming year. These priority goals provide direction for the administration, staff and the Board of Education. Sixteen goals were adopted. Copies of these district priority goals are available at the Crawford AuSable Board Office, at 403 Michigan Ave.

The board decided to wait until after the November general election to draft a new five year plan. The decision to postpone this action was made so that decisions regarding any changes in the statewide school finance policies would be known prior to the development of any long range plans. Until a new five year plan is adopted, the district will operate under the revised July 1987

Dial-A-Ride System Seeks Millage Renewal

This is the third article, in a four part series, on the Crawford County Dial-A-Ride system. The information contained within this series may be of particular interest to area residents in that a proposal to renew the 3/4 mill in local operational support for the Dial-A-Ride program has been placed on the August 2, 1988 Primary Ballot. In this article attention is focused on the economic impact the local Dial-A-Ride system has on the surrounding community.

the Library Building Fund.

CCTA Director, Dave Frederick, noted that when evaluating a public transit system's total benefits to the local economy two quite different types of impact require consideration. The first of those directly relates to the system's function as a transportation provider. Working in this capacity, rural demand-response public transit systems provide thousands of rides each year for individuals going either to or from area businesses. Frederick estimated that within

Crawford County no less than one half of all Dial-A-Ride passengers are using the system for this type of purpose. That estimation amounts to in excess of 60,000 passenger rides a year within Crawford County which directly effect the economy. The loss of a transportation system providing that level of service, through the failure to renew the. existing millage, could not take place without a negative effect for area businesses.

The second type of economic impact relates to the Crawford County Dial-A-Ridesystem as an employer and consumer. The CCTA currently employs nineteen individuals in the Dial-A-Ride program. Eleven of these individuals are classified as full-time, with the remaining eight having part-time status. For the fiscal year ended September 30, 1987 the CCTA Dial-A-Ride payroll, inclusive of all labor and fringe benefits, was: $340,970 (77.2% of total eligible expenditures). Frederick noted that while the nineteen jobs created by the Dial-A-Ride program are not absolutely essential to the local economy, the local economy is nevertheless perceptibly stronger with them than it. would be if those jobs did not exist.

Frederick concluded by noting that while the Dial-A-Ride program has the benefit of placing more into the local economy than itremoves from it, he hopes that county. voters will also keep in mind the noneconomic benefits of the program. For those who can't afford to purchase their own' means of transportation, for those with physical handicaps which make it impractical, if not impossible, to drive themselves, and for the elderly, the benefits of a Dial-A-Ride system are as real as they are difficult. to place in purely economic terms.

Commission On Aging Seeks Two Millages

used?

The following Commission mill previously approved, on Aging millage information was provided by the Crawford County Commission on Aging. Why Two Proposals?

The commission on aging felt the voters should be years (1989, 90, 91, 92). aware of exactly how their tax dollars were being spent. The .30 is a renewal of the .25 plus a .05 increase to be used for senior center operations and programs. The .20 mill would be for rent, operations and maintaining a facility. Both proposals are for 4

What happens if the Proposals are not approved? Beginning fiscal year 1990 services and programs will have to be reduced drastically to compensate for the loss of millage dollars. Presently, the COA budget is broken down as follows; 20% State funds; 12% Program Income; 17.5% Federal funds; 50.5% Millage.

If the proposal for .20 is not approved the rent, utilities, and maintenance costs will have to come from the .30 portion, if that is approved. With 50.5% of the total budget coming from the millage, a defeat of either proposal will mean a decrease in services offered. The biggest impact will be seen in the in-home service area (Meals on Wheels, Homemaker, Personal Care) with lay-offs of staff and cuts in services hours for homebound and other eligible clients.

Didn't the Commission on Aging have a 1/2 mill at one

Yes. In 1984, the Commission on Aging reduced from 1/2 mill to 1/4 mill. Since that time, surplus funds have been used to maintain the budget level as those funds were used the Commission on Aging had an increase of 60% in the area of in-home services. Further increases are expected in the next 4 years. The surplus

Northern Views

By Jon Thompson

Uon Thompson is the editor of the Crawford County Avalanche and a native of Grayling.)

With all the bad things that may be said about Crawford County, you can't overlook the area has quite a few success stories.

Most northern Michigan communities have a couple of projects they can proudly point to. This area has more than a few examples of resourceful people beating the odds.

* A group of people here took a shut down DNR fish hatchery and restored it as a selfsufficient tourist attraction that draws about 40,000 people a year.

- * The residents in Beaver Creek started a township fire department and in a couple of years have turned it into a leader in the state with its computer address system, water access program, and hazardous materials inventory.
- * A coalition of groups saved a railroad depot from destruction and have changed it into a first-rate museum.
- * County residents, faced with the possibility of losing the Hanson Hills Recreation
- Area, approved a millage to help support it. * A youth Booster Club, started over a cup of coffee in the early 70's, is approaching the $400,000 mark in contributions.

★ When the county needed an ambulance service the residents raised money to buy vehicles and started a volunteer corps.

* The Little League program was in debt but now is above water with one of the best fields in northern Michigan.

★ For two years in a row local businesses have helped sponsor a large river and road clean-up project that gives county inmates a half day off sentences for each day they participate.

* The City of Grayling is nearing completion of paving every street in the city using a city income tax program. The city of Grayling is the smallest city in the state to operate a city income tax.

* County voters helped keep a local Dial-A-Ride system alive with a millage and now the system leads the state in ridership.

* Five years after large cuts in school programs, school district voters turned around and approved a middle school renovation project and the high school was named a Michigan exemplary school.

Does Crawford County have more than its share of success stories?

It's something to think about.

Letters to the Editor

Voting For One Candidate Can Double Our Impact

Dear Editor:

We are writing to alert voters in our community of the important, but often overlooked, election for the Michigan Court of Appeals and a fine candidate for that office, Crawford County native Tom Koernke. Tom grew up in Lovells and is a 1966 graduate of Frederic High School.

Koernke, who now lives and practices law in Grand Rapids, is an excellent choice for this newly-created seat on the 24 member Court of Appeals. As a trial attorney specializing in business litigation, Tom is a tireless and dedicated professional. He is familiar to many people in Western and North-Central Michigan due to his long record of community service. Tom's conservative judicial philosophy will serve us well.

Koernke's achievements are many, his endorsements extensive. We are pleased to call him a friend and to add our names to those endorsing him.

This position has a great impact on our lives! The Court of Appeals reviews the decisions of our Circuit and Probate Courts. It demands judges with energy, experience and the ability to research, write and think. Tom has all of these qualities.

Thomas Koernke is the best choice and we urge you to join us in voting for him on Tuesday, August 2, and again on Tuesday, November 8. In fact the best way to help get one of Crawford County's own onto this high court is to vote for him only, even though you can vote for two. If you vote for two, that one vote for the second person might just be the one that could keep Tom from winning. A small county like Crawford has a small impact on elections covering a large district, but we can double that impact in this type of case by voting only for Tom. Be sure to look for the nonpartisan portion of your ballot and then look for "Thomas Koernke" in the first group of names under Court of Appeals.

Goodbye, Mr. Meese...at last

by Richard Milliman

(Richard Milliman is the owner and pres-Ident of the Crawford County Avalanche)

Mr. Meese's situation recalls that of another California politician of the past. Mr. Meese is now crowing that he has not been indicted, therefore he is clean. Richard Nixon, in his most memorable quote, insisted "I am not a crook" and therefore he (Mr. Nixon) also was clean in the Watergate scandal.

To adapt the conclusion of an old show tune: It ain't necessarily so.

MR. MEESE, of course, has his partisans. President Reagan backs him, and claims he was "a darned good attorney general."

Sen. Orrin Hatch of Utah said that Mr. Meese only wanted to hang around long enough "to vindicate himself" and then re-

"I don't know of anybody else who's been kicked around as much as Ed Meese and his family have been in this town," Sen. Hatch

That may be true; but there are very few public officials in Sen. Hatch's town who have undergone a 14-month court-ordered investigation, which brought forth an 830page report, either.

As for Vice President George Bush, he certainly heaved a large sigh of relief, and officially commented: "Ed did the right thing, and we wish him well."

Mr. Meese may be perfectly right in claiming that he should not be indicted for legal transgressions arising from his conduct of office.

But ethical considerations are another matter. The extent of ethical guilt or innocence is yet to be determined.

From what has been reported about Mr. Meese's wheeling and dealing in the Wedtech deals, in the Iraqi pipeline project, in the telephone rulings, and other matters, it would be difficult to entice this observer to buy a used car from Edwin Meese.

You have to wonder if Mr. Meese would recognize an ethical concern if it hit him on the head.

And you have to wonder the same thing about the guy who's been appointing him to one government job after another for the past 20 years or so.

Study Says Telephone Competition Dim in Michigan

Of the five Local Access and Transport Areas (LATA's) served by monopoly local telephone companies, only the Detroit area presents the best chance for some long term telephone competition, according to a 208page report released recently.

The report was a result of an 18-month study conducted under the auspices of the Public Service Commission in considering potential telecommunications competition and alternative forms of regulation in Michigan's LATA's.

Competition is already permitted in providing long-distance telephone service between LATAs.

The PSC hopes to determine whether long distance service within LATA's should be open to all competitors or restricted to local telephone companies.

LATA's are areas that roughly correspond to area codes, although LATA boundaries generally are different from those of area codes.

Bill Ralls, director of Public Communications Associates which was one of three companies conducting the study, said it will be "a catalyst to consider competitive alternatives to local service." He said Bell, other companies, potential competitors and consumer groups will all likely propose policy positions.

The study concluded that: —The potential for telephone competition in most of Michigan's LATA's is doubtful because of insufficient volume of calls or not dense enough population.

—The PSC should consider different rules for different LATA's because of the great differences that exist from one LATA to another in Michigan.

-Unrestricted competition should never be permitted in any one LATA because of the possibility that a lack of potential competitors could lead to an unregulated monopoly.

-Local telephone service should continue to be regulated by the PSC.

company in Michigan.

Bell spokesman Dean Hovey said the firm would not comment until officials have examined the report. Bell serves 3.5 million homes and businesses in Michigan, by far the largest number of customers for a local

Lee Selwyn, president of Economics and Technology, Inc., who conducted the portion of the study dealing with the telecommunication market in Michigan, cautioned against eliminating telephone regulation due to Michigan's nature of geographic, population and other factors affecting ser-

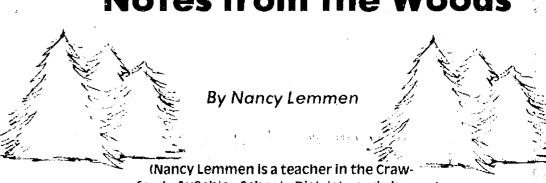

"I recommend that state policymakers retain existing regulatory oversight of dominant carrier pricing and services, while considering targeted policies that could allow specialized competition in certain market segments or 'niches'," he said.

Tom Muth of the Department of Telecommunication at Michigan State University, who prepared the regulatory alternatives portion of the study, said the study concludes that deregulation has increased rather than decreased responsibilities of state telecommunication regulatory agen-

"Regulatory agencies in states that have deregulated telecommunication industries have had to develop policies that concern market structures in order to open 'niches' where competition can develop rather than the century old tradition of service by a single increased telephone utility monopoly," he said.

The study was financed by a $99,570 grant from the Michigan Divestiture Research Avalanche.) My father grew up on a small dairy farm in northern Wisconsin. As the oldest son in a family of eight children, he dropped out of school in 8th grade to work with his parents. After two years, he decided that farming was not his vocation of choice and returned to high school. After graduation, he attended the University of Wisconsin as a engineering major until World War II interrupted his education. After the war, he began a 37-year career in business.

Somewhere along the way, the father whom I knew - gardener, outdoorsman, businessman - also developed an appreciation for the arts. I don't know where. Growing up on a 40-acre farm which had to sustain three generations meant hard work with few opportunities for entertainment beyond activities sponsored by the church.

I do recall older relatives saying that my grandpa was known as a good accordianist. Evidently, he would play occasionally when the family and neighbors gathered together on a Sunday afternoon for friendly conversation and rich Bohemian meals.

As my brothers and I were growing up, Dad was often "on the road", traveling to Sears catalog stores throughout northern Michigan as a district manager, while Mom held down the fort at home. Whenever possible, though, he would plan his itinerary to be home for our band concerts and plays and recitals.

He took us to museums, encouraged us to attend cultural events, was impatient at our disdain for opera. Somewhere in his life, he learned the values we derive from the arts. He knew that they enrich our lives, help us understand our world, lift our spirits, provide us with a respite from daily drudgeries.

Once, he came into my room as I was working too long and hard on a school assignment when I would have been better off taking a walk or reading a good book or playing a game of tennis. He told me he had just seen a new poster that said, "You've got to take time to stop and smell the flowers."

Did I think I was making time to do that?

No, I wasn't, and still today, I often fail to take moments to "stop and smell the flowers." But when I get overly involved in obligations and jobs, I do think of what my dad said, and I think about how he valued the arts, and I try to make space in my life to see a play, listen to a concert, read a book, visit an Artrain exhibit. The last time Artrain was here, many children visited the exhibit with their school classes. I am told that some of them returned with their parents to show them what they had seen. Since school is out for the summer, children won't go with their teachers and classmates. If they are to see the Cranbrook exhibit - works by outstanding faculty and students of the famous art academy - they must be taken by their

If my dad were here and if we were small children again, he would take my brothers and me to Artrain when it comes to Grayling July 28-31. He would let us explore the displays and would listen to our reactions, without coloring them with his own adult opinions about what makes good or bad art. He would discuss the experience with us. And if we wanted to return to the exhibit, he would take us back, because he would understand that children in northern Michigan don't often have a chance to visit an art museum. And we would remember what he did - twenty, thirty, forty years later, quite possibly even the rest of our lives.

And then we would take our own children to see Artrain, because as adults we would understand the benefits provided to the human spirit and mind by the arts. And because we would remember his efforts with love and respect and gratitude. The Artrain will be open to the public from 12 noon to 8 p.m. next week Thursday through Sunday. Take time for yourself and your children to stop for a few moments from your usual hectic summer schedule to enjoy the world of art and the artist. Visit Artrain. My dad would approve.

Yes, I am Seeking Re-election as

SHERIFF of Crawford County

Because I don't have signs and posters out, does not mean that I am not serious about being re-elected. I am not much on cluttering the street corners or countryside with campaign signs and posters.

I have no opponent in the August 2nd Primary Election and feel that there is very little need for signs at this time. There may be a few signs before the General Election in November but very few.

Exercise your Right, Honor and Duty, be sure to Vote.

6th Annual Cornell Tennis Tournament Scheduled for Saturday, July 23

The Cornell Tennis Tournament, open to players of all ages, will be held Saturday, July 23, at the GHS tennis courts. Singles, doubles, and mixed doubles will be offered with players divided into as many age divisions as practical. The tournament, normally held during the Milltown Festival, was moved ahead a week to avoid conflicting with a heavy schedule of Milltown events on Saturday, July 30.

"This is a good year for local players who haven't entered before to see what the tournament is like," said tournament organizer Jon Thompson. "It's a fun tournament and no tennis players should be scared off because they don't feel they are good enough."

Entry forms are available at the Avalanche or Cornell Insurance.

Cups N Cones Offers Expanded Menu, Services

The Cups N Cones, located on M-72 West, next to Tom Schans Plumbing and Heating, has to be one of Grayling's most improved businesses. The business was built in 1975. Four years later it was closed and boarded. It remained in this condition while weeds took over the grounds until it was purchased by Don Gross in July, 1984.

Don worked fervently the first summer so that he could open in August. The Cups N Cones' menu was limited to hamburgers and hot dogs from the grill, french fried potatoes and onion rings, and soft ice cream.

Each summer since the Cups N Cones reopened the business has expanded its building additions and its

The area is lighted by more than a dozen globe lamps. Gross has also added landscaping throughout the grounds.

EXPIRES JULY 31st, 1988 COUPON

Artrain Pulls In To Grayling Next Week

Artrain, the nation's only art museum on a train, will be in Grayling, on the railroad siding in front of the Crawford County Courthouse from July 28-31.

Artrain is composed of five cars: three gallery cars housing a museum exhibition, a studio car for live demonstrations by area artists and a caboose used by the on-board staff. Since artain started touring 17 years ago, it has travelled to 28 states and has welcomed nearly two million visitors.

A tour of Artrain begins with a four-screen audio-visual introduction to the art and artists in the exhibition. The tour continues through a sculpture gallery, photo gallery, three other display galleries, past a small gift shop and finishes in the studio car. It takes approximately 45 minutes to tour the train. There is no admission charge, but a small donation is welcome. Artrain will be open to the public from 12 noon to 8:00 p.m. each day. Call chairperson Cris McLaughlin at (517) 348-4249 for further information.

The 1988 Artrain exhibition is devoted to Michigan's highly acclaimed arts and education center, the Cranbrook Academy of Art. For over 50 years, the students and faculty of Cranbrook have been at the forefront of American art, architecture and design. "The Cranbrook Vision: Past and Present" will bring the treasures of the Academy's collection

McLaughlin says that an art display by local students will be hung near Artrain. She invites young artists to drop off any artwork they would like exhibited at the Grayling Dairy Queen. Works with artists' names can be retrieved at the same spot after Artrain's visit.

The Gospel of John Part 42 The Light of the World

As Israel was led by God in a cloud by day and a pillar of fire by night throughout their wilderness wanderings, so Jesus Christ claimed to be that God of fire and light. "Then spake Jesus again unto them, saying, I am the light of the world: he that followeth me shall not walk in darkness, but shall have the light of life." (John 8:12). As John said in John 3:19, 20, "And this is the condemnation, that light is come into the world, and men loved darkness rather than light, because their deeds were evil. For every one that doeth evil hatheth the light, neither cometh to the light, lest his deeds should be reproved."

The Pharisee response to Jesus' words illustrates the problem. "The Pharisees therefore said unto him, Thou bearest record of thyself; thy record is not true." (John 8:13). They were calling Jesus Christ as liar reflecting their antagonism to His person and claims.

Jesus reminded the Pharisees that His knowledge was infinite because He came from Heaven and was returning to Heaven, and the Pharisees knew nothing about this wisdom. (John 8:14). The Pharisees were judging God in human flesh, yet God while in human flesh the first time did not come to judge, but to save. Therefore their judgment was finite and partial. (John 8:15). Yet, if and when Christ shall judge, His judgment is impartial and infinite. (John 8:16). This is assured because He is equal with God the father, and their judgment is always together. Christ reminded them that their law required the witness of two men for truth, yet He and the father as two persons of the godhead bore identical witness to His own deity. (John 8:17, 18).

The Pharisees showed their ignorance of both the Father and Son. "Then said they unto him, Where is thy Father? Jesus answered, Ye neither know me, nor my Father: if ye had known me, ye should have known my Father also." (John 8:19). As John also wrote later, "Whosoever transgresseth, and abideth not in the doctrine of Christ, hath not God. He that abideth in the doctrine of Christ he hath both the Father and the Son." (2 John 9). Those who deny the deity of Jesus Christ as the second person of the godhead are antichrist and unsaved. (2 John 7-11).

Abiding under the sovereign protection of the Father, (John 8:20), Christ reminded the unbelieving Pharisees of their fate. "Then said Jesus again unto them, I go my way, and ye shall seek me, and shall die in your sins: whither I go, ye cannot come." (John 8:21). This is the sad commentary on all who reject Jesus Christ as God, the light of the world.

Scripture Reference: John 6:1-15

All of the Gospels show the compassion of Jesus for the crowds of people. This is no different with the miracle of the multiplication of the loaves of bread. John stresses the value of the sign contained in the event.

Jesus knows very well what He is going to do, but He acts as if He does not know and He poses a problem. This is a good way to teach and to get people's attention. What has to be done to avoid sending all the people away hungry? How are they going to feed them? The facts are quite simple. There are five loaves and thousands of persons to be fed. And Jesus wants to stress the difference between the means at hand and the hunger of the multitude.

What is about to happen will make a vivid impression on the disciples and the crowd. However, the crowd, after a short lived enthusiasm, will quickly return to its daily routines. The disciples will remember the miracle without understanding its important meaning, but will eventually become part of their training and education given to them by the Lord. Jesus does quite reveal His entire self to them. They will have to wait until the Resurrection for that. John points two important thoughts Jesus is trying to get across to the disciples.

Starting from this situation, Jesus asks His Apostles an obedience of faith. The Apostles carry out the Lord's instruction to have the people recline. They must have been wondering what was going to happen. Perhaps by now they realize they should not even begin to wonder what the Master is going to do. Then we read: Church.)

'Jesus took the loaves, gave thanks, and passed them around to those reclining there.' Of course, the Apostles helped in the distribution as mentioned in Mark's Gos-

What would have happened if the Apostles had resisted Jesus in some way? It is possible that they might not have become the people as we know them now. We see here what is the effect of an obedience of faith. It makes the believer a participant in the activities of God especially when they go beyond human capabilities. Do we know how to carry out the tasks God asks of us, especially when they go beyond our understanding?

The obedience of faith must be lived in the right way. The faith of the Apostles did not enable them on the spot to interpret properly the sign given by Jesus. While Jesus is placing before them a sign of their future faith, they react to the present situation according to the hope that dwells in

They are hoping for the coming of a Messiah who will restore the kingdom of Israel. In good faith but wrong all the same, they see in the miracle an occasion for proclaiming Christ a King. Today, true Christians live by faith in a Risen Christ. But are there not perhaps improper ideas, hopes, wrong interpretations, that are mingled in some peoples faith? What exactly do we expect from Jesus and His

Some things come to you easily, with little or no effort on your part. Your selfconfidence is high.

A few sharp exchanges can close the door on fruitful discussions in organizational functions. Strive for harmony.

Misunderstanding a message can get things all fouled up. Be sure handwriting is legible, and the instructions clear.

Keep a close watch on the association ledger. Carelessness, rather than mishandling, causes a gap in accountability.

Avoid a clash with mate or partner by exercising patience until you both arrive at an understanding of the facts.

You are quite happy to keep a low profile and enjoy working in seclusion on some creative project.

Group activities are emphasized. A friend from the past introduces you to a new technique which should revitalize the organization.

Focus on career goals. Interesting business contacts bring past accomplishments to mind. Chances for promotion are excellent. Get your data into workable shape. Your proposal will be readily understood. Approval is likely.

Business transactions may pay off in a totally unexpected way. Make sure all parties pay their share.

A new friendship develops as a business deal progresses. This could lead to a strong alliance.

You could work up a good case of selfpity if that's what you want. Join in the social activities.

The last thing you need now is a problem with your car insurance.

When you and your car meet with ill fate, you don't need any more problems. But that's often what occurs. Sometimes it's hard to decide which is worse, the collision or the claims service.

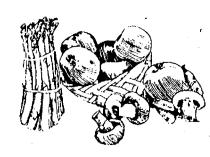

Auto-Owners lives by one simple ideal when it comes to claims service... common sense. It must be fair. It must be fast, it must satisfy. That's why they're no problem people when it comes to handling claims or any of your insurance needs. Just talk to your independent Auto-Owners agent and find out how your insurance can be no problem.

Did you know you would be getting twice as much Vitamin C if you had a red bell pepper instead of orange juice for breakfast? Fact.

Cherries are beginning to come to market now and must be enjoyed in the short season we have. Commercially, red tart cherries are canned with water, no sugar added. Dark sweet cherries are usually canned in heavy syrup. Both red tart and dark sweet cherries are made into pie filling. Both are also sold frozen, pitted and individually frozen so that the user removes only the amount necessary. The following recipe makes 21/2 cups, but processed in pretty jelly jars, this would make a lovely gift that cannot be purchased in stores.

20 oz. tart red cherries, pitted, do not drain

1/2 c. water

1/2 c. raisins 1/2 c. honey

1/4 c. cider vinegar 1/4 c. brown sugar, packed

1/2 tsp. cinnamon

1/5 tsp. cloves 1/2 c. pecans, coarsely ground

1 tbsp. cornstarch

1 tbsp. water Combine first eight ingredients in saucepan. Cook slowly, uncovered, for 30 minutes. Add pecans. Combine cornstarch and water and add to cherries. Stir constantly until mixture bubbles and thickens. Process in jars or chill.

When we have such a cherry surplus (this year excepted) and researchers are trying to find ways to use more cherries in the home and manufactured products, trying to get more of them used in subsidized school lunch programs, it is difficult to understand why cherry jams and preserves are so expensive. Preserves are so easy to make at home and are much less expensive.

Red Tart Cherry Preserves

2 lbs. or 4 c. cherries, pitted; save juice 4 c. sugar

Combine sugar and cherry juice. Add water if there is not enough liquid to dissolve sugar. Simmer until sugar dissolves. Cool. Add cherries and cook rapidly until cherries are glossy - about 15 minutes. Cover and let stand in a cool place 12 to 18 hours. Bring to a boil, boil fast one minute and pour into jelly glasses. Process 15 minutes in hot water bath. Makes four 1/2 pint jars. We find that if your jars are heated in a little water in the oven, the water bath is not necessary and it eliminates further cooking of the fruit. These delicious sweet biscuits use canned pie filling, but are nice served warm for breakfast or with a luncheon salad.

Cherry-up Biscuits 1½ c. flour 1 tbsp. baking powder 1/2 tsp. salt 1/2 tsp. cream of tartar 1/2 c. plus 2 tbsp. shortening 1½ tsp. sugar 1/2 c. milk

Filling: 1 stick margarine, melted 1/3 c. plus 2 tbsp. brown sugar

1 can (21 oz.) tart cherry pie filling Combine dry ingredients, cut in shortening. Add milk all at once; stir until dough forms a ball. Knead gently a few times on flouring surface. Roll 1/2 inch thick and cut with biscuit cutter. In muffin tins, put 1 tsp. margarine, 1 tsp. brown sugar and 1 heaping tbsp. pie filling. Top with biscuit brushed with margarine and bake at 425° until biscuits are golden, about 15 minutes. Makes 12 biscuits.

Poet's Corner Choice

The choice for which you shall shed tears, May be a strong sight to bear. But as for choice made by solemn love, You choose from words never there.

Love so strong caused by loneliness, Love too strong to rejoice. When decision falls upon the drop, This is nothing but choice.

Arranged in many a pattern, Designed for many a fall. Anything else, but choice itself, Will end in nothing at all.

But never disguise; this welfare of love, From sight of day 'til the end. Choice is nothing to worry yourself, But just a price paid; to spend.

My God

I see my God where the tall pines grow I see my God where the rivers flow I see my God at the mountain's crest In the works of His hands I see my God best.

I hear my God in the evening breeze I hear my God in the swaying trees I hear my God in the babbling brook His voice seems to come from everywhere I look

I talk to my God when my heart is sad I talk to my God when my heart is glad I talk to my God when life I savor I kneel to give thanks not just to ask for favor.

I worship my God on the sunny plain I worship my God in the life-giving rain I worship my God on bended knee Giving thanks He is so kind to me.

I trust my God will save my soul I trust my God when the tempests roll I trust my God will welcome me-To heaven's door to spend eternity.

Introduced in 1975, instant games are now the oldest in the Michigan Lottery line-up. They have offered a variety of formats and prize structures through the years. The following addresses current instant games.

Q: What's the newest instant game? A: Tickets for the "Triple Header" scratch-off game went on sale July 19.

Q: How do you play?

A: Simply purchase a $1 ticket at any of the nearly 8,000 Michigan Lottery retailers in the state. The ticket offers three different chances to win as you compare your team's score with its opponent's. If yours is higher, scratching off another area reveals your prize.

Q: What can you win?

A: To satisfy player preference for more prizes, "Triple Header's" top prize is $100-and there are 20,000, or $2 million worth, of such prizes in the game. Other prizes range from "Free Tickets" to $10. In all, the game offers players prizes worth more than $14 million.

Q: What are the odds of winning?

A: This game continues the popular prize structure where fifty-five cents of every dollar expected to be wagered has been put in the prize pool. Consequently, the odds of winning some kind of prize are about one in three!

A: All winning tickets in "Triple Header" can be redeemed at any Lottery retailer for immediate prize payment.

Q: How long will this game remain an instant game prize?

Q: How do you go about collecting on sale? A: Beginning with the previous game, "Spin to Win," the Lottery's instant games will remain on sale at most retailers for up to one year or until they are sold out. This means there will be some overlap in the games, providing variety to players.

Q: You mean you can currently pur-chase "Spin To Win" or "Triple Header" tickets from Lottery agents? A: Yes. Simply tell your retailer your

Q: Do proceeds from instant games

A: As with all Lottery games, net revenues from instant games are earmarked for the state School Aid Fund to help support K-12 education. The Lottery contribution to the Fund has exceeded $400 million in each of the past two fiscal years. This is the equivalent of about $250 per household that otherwise might have had to come from taxes.

MODELING "SHOOT" - Robert Cole poses with Chicago model Chris Vevall for Fashion Galaxy.

Robert Cole Wins Ideal Man Competition

By Nancy Lemmen

Appearing in an episode of "Miami Vice" could well be the fulfillment of someone's dream. For local businessman Robert Cole, it was just the beginning of what could become a dream career - as actor and model.

Don Johnson, who dined with Cole at Barbara Walter's home in Aspen, Colorado, last winter, invited him to appear in a group scene in a "Miami Vice" episode. So on February 10 - the day he celebrated his 50th birthday - Cole was filmed being pushed by Sonny Crockett as he ran out of a building in pursuit of a bad guy.

Cole says that the director, who couldn't believe he was 50 years old, asked him if he had a portfolio. Jay Martin, president of National Safety Associates, had also expressed disbelief at his age when they met in Aspen, and thought he "had a look." He asked Cole if he believed in himself, saying he could get him a "shoot" for Pringle's potato chips.

'That was enough to get Cole, whose operative motto is "believe in yourself," going in a new career direction. Local people already know him as a talented floral designer and successful businessman. With partner Ernie Dawson, he opened Flowers by Josie and Grey Goose Gifts after spending 15 years in education, so making career changes was not new to him.

The Pringle's ad, which has been run on television, was shot in March at the Rob Royce Agency in Detroit as part of the "Catch the Fever" campaign. Cole played the role of a gym teacher's husband, and held the potato chips while the children jumped on a trampoline.

The Pringle's people, says Cole, "made up the box of chips as if it were a person." He was directed to hold the container in his left hand, the label showing all the time, with three cameras running simultaneously. Without looking down, he would reach in with his right hand for a chip. Make-up people put hair spray on the box to dull reflections and held umbrellas over it to catch any glare. He only partially exaggerates when he remembers with amusement that they powdered the box for an hour-and-ahalf and the models for 15 minutes.

This spring, at local model Cheryl Alef's suggestion, Cole signed up with Venture Model Management in Traverse City to work on a portfolio. It was a Venture employee who called him in early May to suggest that he enter the Ideal Man Contest, sponsored jointly by WKPK and Venture in Traverse City.

He'd never attempted a pageant before, but he rounded up a swimsuit, sports outfit and tuxedo and gave it a go. Cole describes his fellow contestants, who ranged in age from 18 to 50, as "dynamite" people with experience from all over Michigan. He had none at all. But he did have his confidence and a comfortable feeling that came from enjoyment of the game rather than concern for winning.

Cole was one of the ten finalists chosen at the May 12 preliminaries. The finals were held a week later at the Traverse City Holiday Inn's Shimmers Lounge. As part of the contest, each man was asked a spontaneous question. Cole's was: "Would the Ideal Man be afraid of failure and why?" He answered, "No, because failure is nothing more than success. Once someone fails, he knows what he has done wrong and consequently can make it better. So go for it." The audience

Maybe it was the fashions he wore, maybe the confidence he projected, maybe his answer to the question. At any rate, Robert Cole won the Ideal Man pageant. And part of his winnings included an opportunity for a photo contract with Fashion Galaxy catalog, modeling gym clothes and bags.

How did he prepare for the modeling job? He did the same as for the Ideal Man contest: nothing. Cole doesn't think modeling is any different from walking down the street. "You have to be on your best foot all the time...the camera catches you...I think anyone could be a model."

Cole did another shoot — an audition for the Stetson cologne model — in May. He answered a "cattle call" in the Detroit Free-Press and dressed in a fringed leather jacket, a look designed to appeal to the older, yet vital men Coty hopes will buy the cologne.

He is presently negotiating with American Male catalog for an assignment in Cancun, Mexico, next winter. He says, with the same confidence that he took to the Ideal Man contest, that he will be shooting for International Male.

Meanwhile, Cole has also joined Martin's National Safety Associates as a sales coordinator. NSA, which he describes as "a company with a heart," sells water treatment systems throughout the country. He is simultaneously continuing work on his degree from the American Institute of Floral Design by attending symposia to work with the best floral designers of the Cole keeps in shape for his new careers in simple fashion: he drinks lots of water, which he believes is a cure-all, and he bikes. anywhere from 16 miles a week to 16 miles a day.

In spite of his new commitments, Cole insists that he has more time now than ever before and explains that he takes some time everyday for himself, to set new goals and readjust old ones, to sit, look, think - whatever he is moved to do.

With potential jobs all over the country, what keeps Cole in Grayling? The businesses he co-owns are established here, he answers, and he doesn't want to leave. Also, he thinks Grayling is "a diamond in the rough on the threshhold of becoming one of the most beautiful towns in northern Michigan. We have two of the most beautiful rivers, honest and caring people, a school district that is trying to be the best it can and accessibility to wide, open spaces."

"These people," says Robert Cole, referring to Venture and NSA - "have changed my life and I'm having a ball." Not bad for a guy who just completed his first half-century. Maybe the saying should be changed to, "Life begins at 50."
